CENTER STRIP

Day One: Center Strip Day

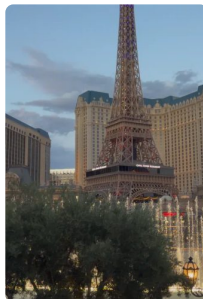

Today's all about the middle of the Strip. We start at the Bellagio fountains, then dig into crab legs at Bacchanal and wander the Venetian's canals and shops. We finish with The Wizard of Oz wrapped around the inside of Sphere, plus a helicopter over the lights after dinner.

STOP 1 / 9:00 AM

The Westin Las Vegas Hotel & Spa

It's an 826-room hotel just east of the Strip with no casino floor at all, which is honestly why I loved it. I booked last minute on a packed weekend and still...

STOP 2 / 10:30 AM

Fountains of Bellagio

The fountains in front of the Bellagio are a free show on an 8.5-acre lake, driven by more than 1,200 nozzles and nearly 4,800 lights sunk under the water. You can watch from the sidewalk or the bridges over the Boulevard, and...

STOP 3 / 12:00 PM

Bacchanal Buffet

It's the buffet at Caesars Palace, and the crab legs are the reason to go. So fresh and juicy, and there's butter ON TAP - we basically made it a mission to eat as many as we could. The prime rib came...

STOP 4 / 1:30 PM

High Roller at the LINQ

The High Roller rises 550 feet above the LINQ Promenade, with air-conditioned pods and wide views across the Strip. The wheel turns slowly enough to take in the skyline from every angle, and the to...

STOP 5 / 3:00 PM

The Venetian Las Vegas

It's a whole chunk of Venice dropped on the Strip - a Rialto Bridge out front, canals inside, gondolas drifting past the shops. We walked the place end to end, and honestly the hotel itself is the...

STOP 6 / 4:00 PM

Grand Canal Shoppes at The Venetian Resort Las...

This is the shopping stretch inside the Venetian, where the walkways follow a canal past cafe terraces and bridges to a copy of St Mark's Square. We walked it as part of exploring the whole hotel, and...

STOP 7 / 5:30 PM

The Wizard of Oz at Sphere

It's the 1939 movie blown up until it wraps the entire inside of the Sphere. I'd never seen the original, and starting here was unreal. You feel the wind in the tornado, the seats shake, apples drop from the...

STOP 8 / 7:00 PM

Gordon Ramsay Hell's Kitchen

It's Gordon Ramsay's restaurant at the front of Caesars Palace, built to run like the show - the pitchfork from the set stands right at the door. You eat with the...

THE STRIP · WEST OF THE STRIP · DOWNTOWN VEGAS

Day Two: The Strip & Downtown

Today's the whole length of the Strip, then downtown. We start with Madame Tussauds, ride up the STRAT and wander AREA15's surreal warehouse before the Neon Museum. Then we return to the Bellagio for O and finish with a late open-top bus ride through the lights.

STOP 1 / 9:00 AM

Madame Tussauds Las Vegas

A wax museum tucked into the front of the Venetian, right off the Shoppes, with more than 75 figures from music, film and sport. Nothing sits behind rope, so...

STOP 2 / 10:30 AM

The STRAT Tower Observation Deck and...

It's the tallest tower at the north end of the Strip, and the ride up is half the fun - the elevator climbs faster than the ones at the Space Needle or the Eiffel Tower...

STOP 3 / 12:30 PM

AREA15 - Meow Wolf & more!

Ten minutes west of the Strip, a giant warehouse hides a district of surreal art you can wander for free, plus more than forty ticketed experiences built around it...

STOP 4 / 3:30 PM

The Neon Museum

Two blocks off Fremont Street sits a gravel lot holding about 250 old Vegas signs, pulled off casinos and motels as they closed. Some are restored and relit; others stay stacked and dark just as they were salvaged. In the...
